- Open to graduate & undergraduate students
- Students may repeat this course.
- Cross-listed as Ling 5700 and EduTL 5700.

This course provides hands-on training in science education at the Center of Science and Industry (COSI @ http://cosi.org/). Students will work at the Language Sciences Research Lab (https://u.osu.edu/thebln/language-pod/) a working linguistics lab inside the museum (http://www.cosi.org/exhibits/life). Students will learn about linguistics research and be trained in how to communicate language sciences information to the public, including child and adult visitors.

Students will spend 3 - 6 hours per week at COSI, explaining the language research to visitors, conducting demonstrations about language science, and assisting in recruitment for the research studies. These COSI hours will replace some regularly scheduled classes and will be scheduled at various times in consultation with students and will include some evening and weekend hours.
