

Disciplinary Breadth

Honors-quality courses from the following departments can fulfill Disciplinary Breadth requirements for graduation with Honors in the Arts and Sciences. Any courses or departments not listed must be approved by petition.

Social and Behavioral Sciences

Anthropology, Communication, Economics, Geography, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Speech and Hearing Science

Also includes: AEDEcon/ENR 2501, Psychology 3900, MedColl 4660(E), Public Health 2010H

*Excludes Anthropology 2200H, Psychology 2220H, and Psychology 3313H, which are all NMS Disciplinary Breadth

Arts and Humanities

African American and African Studies, Art, Art Education, Classics, Comparative Studies, Dance, Industrial, Interior and Visual Communication Design, East Asian Languages and Literatures, English, French and Italian, Germanic Languages and Literatures, Greek and Latin, History, History of Art, Linguistics, Music, Near Eastern Languages and Cultures, Philosophy, Slavic, East European Languages and Literatures, Spanish and Portuguese, Theatre, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies

Natural and Mathematical Sciences

Astronomy, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Earth Sciences, Evolution, Ecology and Organismal Biology, Mathematics, Microbiology, Molecular Genetics, Physics, Statistics

Also includes: Earth Science/EEOB/History 2911